PEER releases new single

MIDDELBURG - For the first time since their 2019 debut album, the Dutch poprockband PEER is putting out a new single “Thinking About You”. The song is about the longing for a sense of stability and security within a relationship. The track is poppy with an edge and lots of energy. The song will be released on October 21st on all streaming platforms. This single is the first in a series of 3 songs that the band will release leading up to a brand new EP.
